

THE PRISONERS OF 2024

INMATE: TREVOR AUSTRENG #SJHK001

Crime: Retiring from Fawcetts

Plea: Not Guilty!

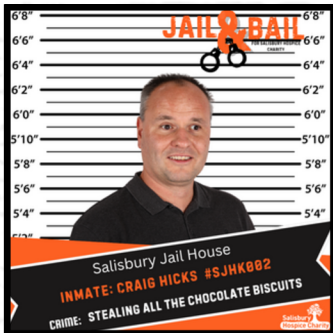

Bail Raised £4,533.10

Trevor Austreng from Fawcetts has decided to (nearly but not quite) retire after an impressive 50 years on the job. But wait, he's not slipping off into the sunset just yet! Trevor's got a one-day stint at Salisbury Jail House on the agenda to raise some cash for Salisbury Hospice. Can Trevor drum up the £999 bail money and escape the slammer to support a good cause? Let the fundraising games begin!

Sentenced by colleagues at Fawcetts

INMATE: CRAIG HICKS #SJHK002

Crime: Stealing all the chocolate biscuits

Plea: Not Guilty!

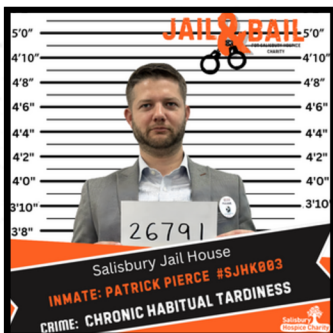

Bail Raised £1,371.11

Craig Hicks pleads NOT GUILTY! Lies say his colleagues...If chocolate biscuits magically appear in the office while Craig is in the vicinity, poof! They vanish quicker than you can say "abracadabra." It'd be fine if he ever contributed to the stash! Can Craig hustle up the £999 Bail faster than wolfing down a pack of chocolate biscuits? Only time will spill the tea!

Sentenced by colleagues at Salisbury Radio

INMATE: PATRICK PIERCE #SJHK003

Crime: Chronic Habitual tardiness

Plea: Not Guilty!

Bail Raised £1,956.08

When challenged Patrick Pierce said "I'm not late. I had no intention of being on time. I'm a master of tardiness, and I embrace the art of fashionably late entrances like a pro!" Can Patrick get away with his crime...and hustle up the £999 Bail in time, or is the slammer calling his name!

Sentenced by employees of Tesco Salisbury Extra

THE PRISONERS OF 2024

CONVICTED

INMATE: EMMA BELCHER

#SJHK004

Crime: Confectionery Coercion

Plea: Guilty!

Bail Raised £1,177.38

Emma Belcher pleads GUILTY to her crimes! So don't you dare abandon your sugary treats, because Emma, the donut detective, is on a mission! Hand over your donuts or it's a powdered sugar showdown. Will Emma whip up the £999 Bail before leaving a trail of sweet sprinkles? Stay tuned to find out!

Sentenced by employees of Brighter Days Care

INMATE: ZENA EMBLETON

#SJHK005

Crime: Sugar Rush Robber

Plea: Guilty!

Bail Raised £1,075.22

Zena Embleton confesses to her sugary shenanigans! If sweet goods magically appeared, Zena would gobble them up in a flash, faster than you can say "sweet treat". Her friends and co-workers have had enough of this sweet sabotage! Will Zena scrape together £999 for bail before her next candy heist or are handcuffs on the horizon for this sweet-toothed bandit?

Sentenced by employees of Brighter Days Care

Total Bail Raised £10,112.89

WILL YOU BE OUR NEXT JAILBIRD?

